Bibliography – Book Arts – Science – Fine Books, Maps & Prints

Beughe, Cornelis van. Bibliographia medica & physica novissima. Amsterdam: Janssonius van Waesberghe, 1681. In-16, [8], 503 pp. Cont. Dutch vellum with yapp edges (binding little stained, paper browned at the beginning). This medical bibliography by the foremost bibliographer of the 17th century contains the works published from 1651 to 1581. Included about 2000 writers (4000 titles according to Besterman) arranged alphabetically by the last name of the author, separately listing publications in Latin, French, Spanish, Italian, English, German and Dutch. The bibliography “is probably as complete and as accurate as was possible at that time. Its main importance is that it is the first work to break down the overwhelmingly large production of medical works into easily digested portions by a time span.” (Brodman) NLM XVII, 1179. € 885.-

Brant, Sebastian. Das Narrenschiff. Leopold: Oleg Denysenko, 1998. 4to (31 cm), 78 pp, relief printing in red and black on Hahnemühle paper, 8 etchings signed in pencil, hand painted initials. Bookblock sewed on cords attached to the first and the last page, inserted in a leather case, raised bands, etched plate mounted on the front cover, silk bookmark with a metal bell at the end, blind-stamped and printed pastdowns. Limited to 9 copies, this is no. 3 signed by Oleg Denysenko, renowned Ukrainian graphic artist who designed, printed, illustrated and bound this book. € 680.-

Catalogue des Cartes Géographiques, Topographiques & Marines, de la Bibliothèque du Prince Alexandre Labanoff de Rostoff, a Saint-Petersbourg. Suivi d'une Notice de Manuscrits. Paris: Firmin Didot, 15th April 1823. 8vo (20 x 13.2 cm), VIII, 494, [2] pp, half chagrin over marbled boards, original wrappers bound in (little foxing, blind collector stamps on the title and the first page). The catalog of the map collection of the Duke Aleksandr Lobanov-Rostovsky (1788-1866), a Russian general and diplomat. The catalog was written by the Duke himself with the help of Charles Piquet. One of 230 copies privately printed by Firmin Didot. € 1,550.-

Eusebius of Caesarea; Aucher, Joannes Baptista. Chronicon bipartitum nunc primum ex armenia textu in latinum conversum adnotationibus auctum graecis fragmentis ornatum. Venice: Mekhitarian of San Lazaro, 1818. 2 vol. in-4, [12], XL, 408 pp; [8], 380, [3] pp. Cont. calf backed marbled boards (bindings little rubbed, free end-papers browned). From the libraries of M. A. G. du Plessis and P. de la Morandière (bookplates). Text in Armenian, Greek and Latin. The first edition of the part of Eusebius' Chronicle preserved only in Armenian printed by Mekhitarian monks on San Lazaro island in Venice. € 820.-

Katalog der Ornamentstichsammlung der Staatlichen Kunstbibliothek Berlin. Berlin and Leipzig: Verlag von Kunstwissenschaft, 1939. 4to (30.5 cm), XVI, 782, [2] pp. French half-morocco with corners, four raised bands, spine gilt, marbled end-papers, teg (bookplate mounted on the front pastdown). Beautiful copy of the catalog of the art library which once was the biggest and the finest in the world. 5435 works are described, part of them were lost during the WW2. The most important bibliography of books on the decorative arts. € 480.-

Kohl, Johann Peter. Introductio in historiam et rem literariam Slavorum. Altona: Jonas Kortzen, 1729. In-8, [12], 418 pp, 1 folding plate. Cont. calf, flat spine gilt, two labels with title, triple filets on the front and back covers, aeg, marbled end-papers (first and last leaves browned, some foxing and darkening of paper inside, 19th century inscription top of the blank inserted before title). In 1725 German theologian Johann Peter Kohl (1698-1778) was appointed as a professor of the Imperial Academy of Sciences in Saint Petersburg. He fell in love with Russian princess, was declared mad and shipped back with a lifelong pension. This rare book, one of the first Russian literary histories, is Kohl's the most important work. The first part is concerned with Slavonic bibles (discussing among other topics the origins of printing in Russia), the second part is dealing with the Slavonic translations of Ephrem the Syrian. Estreicher XIX, 394. € 940.-

Obermaier, Michal (Fulgenty). Arytmetyka praktyczna kieszonkowa. Warsaw: The Piarist Fathers, 1773. In-16, [120] ff. Cont. calf, flat spine gilt, front and back covers decorated with gilt fleurons, pained edges, printed end-papers, in cont. pull out slip-case from the same calf as the binding, pasted inside with the same papers as end-papers (slip-case rubbed at the top, an inscription verso of the front free end-paper). Practical pocket commercial arithmetic. 20 leaves of essential arithmetic and multiplication tables. Rare gadget. Estreicher XXIII, 214; Żebrowski 1678. € 1,250.-
